Prophecy Of God's Eternal Power

"My son, I exist by My power. I Am the eternal God. My power is forevermore. The entire universe and beyond is filled with My great power, My son. I exist for My people, and I save them through My power. My powerful Blood is eternal, and demons cannot stand it. I save My people from the fallen power Satan by My powerful Blood, which is eternal. Satan's power is temporary, and will be swallowed up by My power in the Lake of Fire. That he cannot stand, because he knows that his time on Earth is limited, and is soon coming to an end, My son. My power is forevermore, as manifested in My creation. My Throne is a display of My eternal power through lightning power and immense thunder, and burning fire, for I Am A Consuming Fire, My son. I exist for the fulfillment of all power in My creation, and My people. Do I not make My people a consuming fire themselves? For I Am A Flame of Fire, and I make My people burning flames through My Spirit, My son. Who can live in My Presence, to exist with everlasting burnings, My son? My people must be made into flaming fire so that they can exist before Me, A Consuming Fire. I Am full of power, My son, for I Am the All-Powerful God. Let Me burn away all sin and dross out of your life, for I Am full of powerful fire, My son. My Spirit will baptize you in fire, and transform you in My Presence– into flaming fire you shall be transformed, for I transform all My servants in this way. In flaming fire in My Presence they shall be with Me forever, and I shall be their God, for I Am A Consuming Fire, forever consuming all the evil out of your life in My Presence before My Throne, My son, for I Am the All-Powerful God. Depend on Me, for My power shall sustain you, and not that of your own, for I shall baptize you in My Holy Fire, and you shall be like Me. Your God has spoken, amen and amen."
